St. Mary's Church, Irma, Dedicated By the Bishop

Wednesday, October 21st, 1936, will be remembered by the congregation of St. Mary's Anglican church, Irma, as a day of solemn memorial and of great rejoicings. For a number of years a small band of loyal members have worked and prayed that they might have a little building of their own which they could furnish according to Anglican tradition, and where-in they, with their children, and all of the community who so desire, might worship God.

In the summer of 1936 work was commenced on a piece of land donated by Mr. P. Yeend. Willing workers from the Irma and Battle Heights congregations soon had a building erected, which will seat comfortably 50 people. It was officially opened on July 21, 1935, by its Vicar, Rev. C. N. Bateman, Rural Dean of Wainwright. Since then work has been steadily going forward, until all the necessary requirements for its Dedication were completed. On October 21, 1936, at 2:30 p.m., the Rt. Rev. A. E. Burgett, M.A., D.D., Bishop of Edmonton, was present, and was assisted by the Rev. T. Matthews, of Viking, and Rev. C. N. Bateman, priest in charge. The service was opened by the singing of the hymn, "Pleasant are Thy Courts Above" followed immediately by the beautiful and impressive Dedication service. The petition for the dedication of Church and Land was read by Mr. P. Yeend, Vicar's Warden, and was supported by Mr. F. Thurston, People's Warden. The land was dedicated in memory of "William Francis Yeend Beddoes". The Altar which was made and donated by Rev. C. N. Bateman, the Altar Cloth the gift of Mrs. Bateman, the Brass Candlesticks and Vases the gift of Mr. and Mrs. F. Thurston, was then dedicated as The Altar Furnishings. Another valuable gift was the organ which was donated by Mr. and Mrs. W. Ink and in loving memory of Pte. Henry Fells. Several small pieces of linens, etc., were received from the East Harewood branch of the Mother's Union in England. His Lordship then read several prayers in behalf of the Sacraments and Services which D.V. will be held in that sacred edifice, for Baptism, Confirmation, Holy Communion, Holy Matrimony, Churching of Women, For all who Mourning, for all who Worship.

SEDGEWICK NEWS

Mrs. Howard Smith, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Eastly, entertained at her home in Sedgewick on the evening of the 7th inst. in honor of Miss A. S. Solheim on the eve of her marriage. A jolly crowd gathered and after a happy time spent in various games the guest of honor was blindfolded and had to guess the voices of the different speakers. A correct guess was the signal for the removal of the kerchief when to the astonishment of the wearer she found herself surrounded with many useful and artistic gifts for her future home. Great pleasure was manifested in the unwrapping of the various packages and thanks were extended to all for their kindness. After a delightful lunch had been served, all agreed that a "shower" for a bride was a real party.

Chap. 8, and Heb. 10, which were very appropriate, were read by Rev. T. Matthews. The hymns, "We Love Thy Place O God" and the one for the Dedication of Special Offerings, "Great God, to Thee our Hearts we Raise," and "The Church's One Foundation", with no practice and no choir, were sung by the congregation as with one voice, and one object in mind, a great Thanksgiving to God. The address was given by the Bishop and was taken from the first lesson. His Lordship congratulated the congregation on their achievement, and implored the people to use it, and to use it rightly, not for the holding of teas, socials, etc., but to use it reverently, for Sunday school, for the worship of God, and for the Sacraments. The service throughout was of a most impressive nature, and was very much enjoyed by the large congregation present.

All missions in the Wainwright parish had some part in the Irma church. Metropolitan congregation gave a gift of money, Battle Heights congregation gave many days of labor, while Wainwright congregation gave heater, lamps, and labor. A reception which was sponsored by St. Mary's W. A. was held in the Hedley hall immediately after the service, in honor of His Lordship. Invitations were also sent to all who had contributed in any way in the erection of the church. The lunch, which was bountiful and delicious, might aptly be described in the words of the small boy as "scrumptious" and does great credit to the president, Mrs. Thurston, and her faithful band of workers. The Bishop found time for a friendly chat and a handshake with all who were present. Through the generosity of two church societies in England which augmented the Irma funds, the church and contents are absolutely free of all debts, but the thanks of the Vicar and congregation are extended to the local L.O.L. for the loan of chairs which they hope to replace with pews in the near future.

IT HAPPENED HERE
"Darling, there has been something troubling on my lips for weeks and weeks," said a local fellow to his Irma girl. "Yes, so I see," she replied, "Why don't you shave it off?"

ALBERTA ASKS
DOMINION AID
ON DUE BONDS

Edmonton, Oct. 27.—Seeking to avoid default on the $1,250,000 six per cent maturity due on Nov. 1, Hon. Charles Cockroft, provincial treasurer, has wired the Dominion government at Ottawa for assistance in meeting the amount. He is awaiting a reply.

The Minister stated that the treasury had $268,000 in sinking fund to be applied toward the maturity.

If Ottawa does not come to the aid of the province default appears to be the only course open.

"Do not make fun of the coffee," said a travelling man while eating with a friend in a restaurant at Holden. "Why?" his friend asked. "You may be old and weak some day yourself," was the reply.

Facts Gleaned from recent United Church Publications

The number of families connected with the United church as reported in the 1936 year book is 448,525. This is a gain over the highest number of any previous year of 6,406, and a gain since 1926 of 75,963. There is encouragement in this fact of an increasing opportunity for service, and increased numbers to enlist in service. Our church in this large company of families, has ample base upon which to build still larger enterprises for spreading the knowledge of the gospel of the Kingdom of God among those peoples of the world committed to our care.

The United church of Canada has more preaching places than there are stations on the two great Canadian railways combined. To maintain at full efficiency each of these thousands of preaching stations is indeed a great responsibility. To know that they are there in these days of perplexity and strain, gives us the feeling that our deepest needs are being met, for it is still true that after men have been fed and clothed and housed they need something more, and that need can be met only by the loving fellowship and friendship of Jesus Christ who said, "Without Me ye can do nothing."

The task of the church in carrying the gospel of Christ to the whole world is an obligation which is abiding, and a problem which is ever changing. The changeless aspect of Christian mission lies in the fact that Christ came into the world to save all men, or to bring all men and peoples to completion. This basic fact remains unchanged. It is as valid today as in Paul's day—and it remains unaffected by the criticisms of the hour or the problems of the moment. But the carrying out of the Christian mission is a practical problem which takes on new forms and encounters new difficulties in each succeeding generation. Our world is an ever changing world, calling from time to time for a revision of thought and methods in the light of new difficulties.

The Irma United Sunday school have for a number of years presented buttons for perfect attendance, under these conditions: In order to be enlisted as a member one has to attend four successive Sundays, after which he in their class every Sunday unless prevented by sickness or attending another Sabbath school. If the pupil should be away four successive Sundays the card is taken out and pupil would have to be back four Sundays before the card is returned. Wedding Bells

PENDLETON — KNUDSON

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Knudson was the scene of a pretty wedding when their daughter, Helen Sophia, became the bride of Merlyn Winston Pendleton, eldest son of Mr. P. and the late Mrs. Pendleton of Lougheed.

The bride, lovely in a floor-length gown of white satin and carrying a bouquet of pink roses, entered the room on the arm of her father, to the strains of the wedding march played by her youngest brother, Melvin.

The two bridesmaids, Miss Aletha Knudson, cousin of the bride, and Miss Iva Byler, a very close friend, looked charming in pink and blue tulle and wearing corsages of white carnations.

Mr. Conrad Ingvaldsen, a close friend of the groom, acted as best man.

Rev. Ivar Saugen, of Viking, officiated. The immediate families who were present at the ceremony were joined later by other relatives, making a gathering of about 40, all then partaking of a bounteous wedding supper.

The bride's table was centered by a four-tiered wedding cake beautifully decorated by the bride's mother and aunt, Mrs. J. Halvorsen.

The bride and groom received many lovely and useful gifts.

The happy couple left in the morning for Edmonton for a short honeymoon, after which they will reside at the groom's home north of Lougheed.

The Sweet Young Thing (cooing): "Darling, I've just read that a man out west exchanged his wife for a horse. Isn't that awful? You wouldn't exchange me for a horse, would you, darling?"

Husband (dutifully): "Never!" (Then thinking), "But, I'd hate to have anyone tempt me with a real car."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere and deep appreciation to the many friends and neighbors for their many kindnesses and acts of sympathy during our recent sad bereavement of our beloved wife and mother. Especially do we wish to remember the kindness of the hall committee for the use of the hall, to Dr. Haworth and the nursing staff at the hospital for their kindly care, to those who offered the use of their cars for the funeral party, for the many beautiful floral tributes, and each and every one who assisted us in any way to strengthen us in our sorrow.

Indian League Of Nations

Tribes Would Unite In Fealty To The British Crown

An Indian League of Nations, united in common welfare and fealty to the British crown, was advocated at North Battleford, Sask., during an Indian assembly prior to departure of the Mistawasis band for the jubilee celebration of the signing of Treaty No. 6 at Carlton, Sask., 60 years ago. Carlton is 65 miles north of Saskatoon.

The league discussion took place at a three-day convention. It would embrace Redmen of every tribe and race from the Atlantic to the Pacific over its network of reserves.

Chiefs and councillors attended from the Manitoba boundary to the foothills of the Rockies and north to the Churchill river. Chief Joe Dreaver of the Mistawasis was a leading speaker. Canon Edward Ahenakew, president of the League of Indians, was chairman.

They endorsed resolutions concerning safeguarding of rights conferred on them by the 1876 treaty.

Tribesmen were outspoken in their desire for official recognition of their organization. Chief Dreaver thought mutual recognition of the major difficulties by Indians and departmental officials would go a long way toward a solution.

"Let us not meet the representatives of the Great White Chief with hard feeling in our hearts," said Chief Dreaver prior to the tribe's departure for the Carlton celebration. "Let us rather show we feel our advancement has been slow, desiring their co-operation so that the Indian fealty may walk more easily along the thorny paths of civilization."

For Canadian Writers

Short Story Contest For British Empire Authors Only

Opportunity for Canadian writers to win three cash prizes is afforded by the announcement of a short story contest for British Empire authors only.

The contest is being conducted by the well known and established American firm of literary agents, Paul R. Reynolds and Son, acting through their London correspondent, John Farquharson. The prizes are $125 for its approximate equivalent of $225 for first, $75 for its approximate equivalent of $135 for second and $50 for its approximate equivalent of $90 for third.

If the winning stories earn more than the amount of the prize from sale of world rights, such further earnings will be paid to the author after deducting the usual agent's commission, the sponsors state.

Also any story which does not win a prize but which attains the standard of American and British magazines will be offered for sale, it is added.

No manuscripts of over 10,000 words will be considered, the agents further declare, and prizes will probably be awarded to stories of between 3,500 and 6,000 words.

The competition closes December 31, 1936.

Manuscripts must be addressed to Paul R. Reynolds and Son, care of John Farquharson, 8, Halsey House, Red Lion Square, London, W.C.1, England.

Mysterious Bottle Note

May Solve Disappearance Of Ill-Fated Airship

A two-line message, scrawled on a scrap of paper and decipherable only by means of infra-red photography, may hold the clue to the mystery of the ill-fated air liner Southern Cloud.

Five years after the disaster to the plane, which disappeared with two pilots and six passengers on a flight from Sydney to Melbourne, a bottle has been found on the north coast of New South Wales, containing a fragment of paper inscribed with faded letterings.

It was discovered by Maurice Smith, buried in the mud on the bank of the Wallamba River, about 20 miles from its estuary.

The paper inside was little but fluff and fragments, but by the aid of infra-red photography the words "Southern Tasmania" were deciphered on one side of the piece of paper, and "Southern Cloud crossed island 30 miles" on the reverse.

The handwriting has been submitted to Dr. C. A. Monticome, a handwriting expert, for comparison with the notebooks of the late Pilot Charles Dunell, who was assistant pilot on the Southern Cloud.

Monticome reports that he has noted several points of resemblance between Pilot Dunell's writing and the writing on the scrap of paper. Efforts will be made to have the paper photographed through special chemical screens, with the object of bringing out the writing more clearly.

Great Gold Stores

Legend Of The Tropical Valley In Far North Remains Unsolved

The legend of fabulous free gold in the wild Nahanni country, 300 miles west of Fort Simpson and more than 1,200 miles northwest of Edmonton, remains unsolved.

Ever since the turn of the century prospectors have sought the great gold stores of the "tropical valley" in the Nahanni region. Five violent deaths, all unsolved, are laid to the curse of the country. Scores of prospectors have sought the wealth and all have returned without fortunes.

Word came through that the latest search for the source of legendary wealth had failed. Pool Field, veteran northlander trader, prospector and trapper, and his partner, J. H. Mulholland, blamed the failure of their expedition on superstitious Indians too afraid to carry on the search.

Last July Field and Mulholland organized the expedition and with 30 Indians started into the area to pan for gold and seek the "lost" mine. The Indians believe the legend that death awaits prospectors entering the region. They went so far into the area—then quit cold and the expedition failed.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food does not digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body and you feel sour, sick and the world looks pink. A more powerful movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless and gentle, they get the liver working freely. They are the only pills of natural bile have no alcohol or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

The Harmon Trophy

Presented To Father Of The Late Capt. Stevenson Of Winnipeg

The Harmon trophy, awarded posthumously to the late Captain Frederick Stevenson of Winnipeg, was in possession of the aviator's parents, nearly 10 years after the flyer was killed in a plane crash near The Pas, Man.

The bronze medal, awarded by the Ligue Internationale des Aéroclubs de Paris on behalf of the donor, Clifford B. Harmon, was presented to the flyer's father, Joseph Stevenson, by Lieutenant-Governor W. J. Tupper. The medal had been missing several years ago.

Captain Stevenson was the first Canadian to receive the award, recognizing his successful transportation of heavy freight by air into otherwise inaccessible areas of the Canadian northland. His work was described as playing an important part in hastening development of northern mineral areas.

End Of Leap Year

Large Number Of People In Favor Of Calendar Reform

It is very possible that February 1936, will be the last one to have 29 days. Not that February is going to be deprived of this extra day; on the contrary it is probable that it will be given the same right as the other months to have 30 days.

This is the suggestion of a large group of people who are in favor of a revision of the calendar.

It is probable that the League of Nations will call a conference this year to consider the matter. If the change takes place, February will have 30 days every year. Each sixth year there will be an extra day, but that will fall at the end of June. Another suggestion is that his odd day might be made into an extra holiday between December 31 and New Year's Day—Journal of Calendar Reform, New York.

Owners Of Record Breaking Speed Mary Think International Competition Not Desirable

Owners of the record-breaking Queen Mary are embarrassed—they're afraid they'll be offered a cup.

Although the ship won the trans-Atlantic blue ribbon, the Cunard-White Star Company issued a statement saying the company does not want the Hales trophy which goes with it.

In fact they would "feel obliged to refuse it if offered," the statement said.

The trouble is that directors of the line believe international trophy competition, as they say, introduces an undesirable element into the operation of steamship services.

Herd Are Reduced

Some Southern Alberta Ranchers Reported Short Of Feed

Ranchers of Alberta's foothills, their pastures ruined by last summer's drought and an extended Indian summer during September and October, are cutting down their herds to suit their feed supplies.

A prospect that winter feeding grounds for some would be found closer to home was seen in the sugar beet country south of Lethbridge, Alta. Pulp and tops from the beets, a waste as far as the sugar industry is concerned, has been proved an excellent fodder and soon a number of feeder cattle will be moved into the area. Around the New Picture Butte plant alone it is expected nearly 4,000 head will be wintered.

England Loses Landed Gentry

Migration Of Old Families To The Dominions Is Noted

That monumental classic of aristocratic reference, "Burke's Landed Gentry," recently published its centenary issue.

The editor, drawing attention to the migration of old families to the Dominions, instances one head of a family of Norman stock owning more acres in Australia than his ancestors ever did in England. A descendant of squire since Henry VIII, though holding but a handful of acres here, can count his property in Canada by the square mile.

Paper Changes Ownership

Toronto Globe, Founded In Pre-Confederation Days, Passes Into New Hands

Ownership control of the Toronto Globe, metropolitan daily founded in the pre-Confederation days of Canada's history, has passed into the hands of C. George McCullagh and William Henry Wright.

William Gladstone Jaffray, president and publisher of the 92-year-old newspaper since 1914, announced that he had relinquished his interest and connection with the morning paper and that 60 per cent of the shares of the company had been purchased by the new owners. The amount involved was not disclosed.

The Globe now carries in its masthead the name of Mr. McCullagh, who, at the age of 31, becomes the fifth president and publisher of the paper. He thus becomes head of the newspaper which 20 years ago he hawked on London streets.

The new president, in assuming control, announced that the historic traditions of the paper will be continued; that politically it would be Independent-Liberal.

Train Despatching By Phone

Is Superseding Telegraph For Transmission Of Messages

The telephone gradually is supplanting the telegraph in train despatching, according to reports made to the Association of American Railroads.

"The telephone," said a statement issued by the association, "on Jan. 1, 1936, was being used in the transmission of train orders over 148,799 miles of road, or 63.53 per cent, while the telegraph was being utilized only over 92,466 miles.

"This is a material change from conditions prevailing in 1920, when the telephone was being used over 119,554 miles of road, or 48.5 per cent, while the telegraph was used over 134,667 miles.

"The telephone has the telephone proved its superiority in emergencies in train operations. By using a way station or portable telephone the engineer or conductor can communicate directly with the train dispatcher or division superintendent, thus giving him more first-hand information in less time than with the telegraph."

Good Work
Says Maclean's

(Maclean's Magazine)

To the King Government a bouquet for its policy of promoting competent officials of the Civil Service to administrative posts instead of handing out such jobs as political plums.

Colonel A. E. Dubuc, appointed to the new National Harbors Board, was for many years chief engineer of the Railways Department.

B. J. Roberts, made a member of the same board, was Deputy Minister of Finance.

Dr. Charles Cammell, now Deputy Minister of the new Department of Mines and Resources, was formerly Deputy Minister of Mines.

John McLeish, now Director of Mines and Geology, was Director of the Mines Branch.

Roy Gibson, made Director of Lands, Parks and Forests, was Assistant Deputy to the Minister of the Interior.

F. C. Blair, promoted to be Director of Immigration, has been in the service since 1901 and connected with the Immigration Department since 1903. Twice passed over, once by a flagrantly political appointment, Blair's equipment for the position is at last recognized.

All are capable, conscientious civil servants of long standing.

Recognition of the work they have done in the public interest (at salaries much less than they could have commanded in private enterprise) will mean much to the Civil Service as a whole.

Other of the government's appointments strengthen our hope that the day of the political job-hunter is waning.

Arthur B. Purvis, Tom Moore, Professor Macintosh are on the National Employment Commission purely because of merit. E. J. Young, of the same board, is an ex-M.P. but his ability justifies his appointment. George Cooté, ex-M.P., placed on the directorate of the Bank of Canada, while in the House was as much a political opponent as a supporter of Mr. King and his capabilities are unquestioned. With possibly one exception, the other members of the Bank board are non-partisan.

Also outside party lines have been the appointments to the Board of Radio Governors and the C.N.R. directorate.

For his firmness in sidetracking the Barnacle Bills of politics Mr. King is hereby congratulated.

Can't Blame
The People

(People's Weekly)

If Premier Aberhart is forced to "throw up his hands" in a couple of months, a possibility which he is now suggesting, he should be man enough to take all the blame to himself. That he should attempt to build up a case of lack of "co-operation" against the trusting people who elected him, and who still have an abundant faith in him, strikes us as being grossly unfair.

The throwing up of hands will take place, said the premier, if they people do not "co-operate" any better in the institution of Social Credit dividends than they did in the tax-scrip experiment. His complaint in that respect is that scrip was not a success due to the fact that Social Crediters and others refused to take the government's substitute for money for change when making purchases.

But surely there will be no need of this kind of "co-operation" in the acceptance by the people of their dividends. The reason Social Crediters and others refused scrip was because it would cost them money to take it. To accept scrip is to be taxed, to have one's purchasing power reduced, to have one's standard of living made lower. Neither Social Crediters nor other citizens voted for that in 1935, and it was scarcely to be expected that they should voluntarily assume a new tax burden in addition to those already imposed on them by Mr. Aberhart. To charge them with lack of "co-operation" because they refused to buy stamps to put on the Premier's makeshift money is neither logical nor fair.

But, we repeat, what has the scrip experiment and its failure to do with the dividends? The dividends are to be created out of nothing by a fountain pen in a state credit house. They are to be given without money and without price to the people who registered. Surely no one who has signed up for his dividend will be so lacking in "co-operation" as to refuse to accept this free gift from the government—if it is to be a gift.

The Premier's suggestion that the payment of the dividend involved a "co-operation" similar to the acceptance of scrip and its accompanying stamp tax, would appear to indicate that the dividend may not after all be the something for nothing which the people were promised. In such a case Mr. Aberhart and not the people must be blamed for its failure.

The U. S.
Elections

President Roosevelt's triumphant tour of the middle west, and his stirring speeches at Chicago, where 30,000 gathered in the Civic Stadium and 100,000 gathered outside, at Detroit and Cleveland last week emphasized still further the commanding lead he has established over his Republican opponent for the Presidency, Governor Alfred Landon of Kansas. Starting off with a considerable advantage, President Roosevelt lost ground as the Republican campaign began to gather momentum, but the tide has again begun to run strongly in his favor, and a month ago the Wall Street brokerage houses, in their letters to their clients, began to hint at his re-election. When Wall Street is ready to concede the election of a Democrat and, moreover, of a Democrat who has made things somewhat uncomfortable for the financial interests, it is all over but the shouting.

The Republicans have tried to make an issue of the trade agreements between the U. S. and Canada stating they were detrimental to the U. S. farmers. Four years from now we expect to hear opponents of the Mackenzie King government say the same agreements are detrimental to the farmers of Canada. The election takes place next Tuesday.

NEWSPAPERS ADDRESS
ANOTHER PROTEST
TO ABERHART

Is Again Invited to Prosecute Those Papers Accused of Telling Lies

Acting on behalf of the Alberta Division of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association, H. T. Halliwell, Alberta president, addressed to Premier Aberhart this week a further protest against the latter's attacks on the press of Alberta, which are termed "grossly inconsistent with the facts," and the Premier is again invited to prove his charges of misrepresentation in the courts.

The letter which was forwarded to the premier was as follows:

"On October 10, a copy of a resolution was forwarded to you from the annual convention of the Alberta division of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers' association, urging you to take action against newspapers which you accused of telling lies in connection with your policies.

"So far no acknowledgment has been received of this resolution, but instead you continue your misrepresentations over the radio against all newspapers, when the way is open to you to effect a remedy, without inflaming public opinion in an unjustifiable manner against newspaper publishers, who, on the whole, are as keenly interested in good government as all other citizens.

"An opportunity presented itself for you to meet the publishers when they recently met in Calgary, both by invitation fully a month ahead of the meeting, and again during the convention, when you were staying in the Palliser Hotel on October 9-10. This opportunity was not taken advantage of, certainly is not the fault of the publishers.

"Your attacks on the press as a whole are grossly inconsistent with the facts, for the great majority of weekly newspapers have given fair and accurate news reports of all Social Credit activities, have maintained the dignity of the office of premier, and have extended the same courtesies to your party as to other political parties. They maintain they have the right to express their editorial opinions just as freely as your opinions are expressed over the radio, and the columns of all newspapers have been open to those who wish to write letters to the press, both Social Crediters and those opposed to your theories.

"I trust you will either refrain from your continued misrepresentation of the press, or take definite action against those newspapers which you claim are 'telling lies.' (Signed) Yours very truly,

H. T. HALLIWELL, President,
Alberta Division, Canadian Weekly Newspapers' Association."

"Have you a mixed choir here?" asked a new pastor of a church in a neighboring town. "Yes," was the reply, "some can sing and some can't."

NEWS AND VIEWS FROM CAPITAL CITY

(By T. B. Windross)

Edmonton, Alta., Oct. 27.—Work is reported to be progressing rapidly now on the new sections of the Calgary-Edmonton highway and earnest efforts are being made to complete the grading and travelling before the snow sets an end to the work for the winter.

A new section is being graded running past Leduc on the west side of town. The change is being made from the present road, which runs through the business section of Leduc and makes a sharp and more or less dangerous turn from the street westward to rejoin the highway. The new grade will carry traffic past Leduc on its western limits. This plan is a continuation of the policy followed by the former U.F.A. government when it built the roadway past Wetaskiwin instead of diverging through the business portion.

It is looking to the future when hard-surfaced highway is built and traffic increases. The more direct route will avoid dangers from crowded streets and if the policy was carried out at most towns where the road is diverted through the business section it would shorten the distance between Calgary and Edmonton considerably.

Three of the cabinet ministers were indisposed over the week-end. Premier Aberhart has been confined to his hotel room for almost a full week with cold. Hon. E. C. Manning was not at his desk part of the week, and Hon. Charles Cockroft, also was kept home Saturday and prevented from speaking at an engagement at the Athabasca riding zone convention along with Mr. Analey, the member for Leduc.

Hon. Charles Cockroft stated during the week the staff of the civil service had been asked to state what amount of their salaries they would exchange for prosperity certificates. The reason for this was that so many of them have been taking part of their monthly cheques and purchasing scrip from the treasury department that the department wished to make it convenient for them to get the scrip they wanted from the cashier in each department. In this it was necessary to find out how much each department would require.

"There is nothing compulsory about this and the taking of the certificates in exchange for wages is entirely voluntary," Mr. Cockroft stated. He said the government is not asking civil servants to accept any scrip against their wishes.

"Citizens of Edmonton are getting ready for the civil election this month and the list of candidates for aldermanic and mayoral honors is impressive. Mayor Joseph Clarke is running again, this time with an unofficial Social Credit backing. Hon. Lucien Maynard and J. J. Unwin, M.L.A., having spoken in support of his candidature from his platform. J. M. Douglas, ex-mayor, is making another bid for a comeback to the mayoral chair and it is expected the bid will be a strong one. He will be the candidate of the Citizens' committee. Several other former aldermen are among the candidates for office.

The city has been a bit stirred up by reports of speeches made by Alderman Miss Margaret Crang. She has returned from Europe where she went as a peace delegate, and while there took occasion to visit war-torn Spain, where she is alleged to have taken a pop shot at the Spanish rebels, according to reports of her speech made in eastern Canada on her way home.

The former mayor says he favors a building program for the city under the Dominion Housing act, immediate development of the city power plant and extension of the civic air port as the main planks in his platform. Mayor Clark supports a program of increased relief for the unemployed of the province's prosperity certificates.

Plans for establishing a barter system for goods between British Columbia and Alberta were discussed during the latter part of the week by some cabinet ministers and a representative of the Alberta-British Columbia Co-operative Union, Mr. J. E. Armistead. The conversations were confined to a survey of the goods produced in each province that might be exchanged.

Robert Murray and R. W. Leckie, representatives of the Scottish Co-operative Wholesale Society of Glasgow, were in the city and interviewed members of the government with a view to finding out what products of Alberta could be exchanged in a system of barter for goods made in Scotland and handled by the factories of the society. It is part of the government's plan to make such barter possible as a link in the establishment of Social Credit.

The date set for the by-election in Grouard is November 30 and the Social Credit candidate will be announced shortly. Three names have been submitted to the board of selection and the candidate will be chosen from these. Liberals are also selecting a candidate, it is stated in party circles here.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

By H. G. L. Strange, Director
Research Dept., Seattle Grain
Company, Limited

Wheat prices have bounded up. Why?

Simply because the excess, or burdensome world's surplus, has disappeared,—it has been eaten up!

So a heavy burden that has been difficult and expensive to carry has at last been lifted from the backs of our Canadian farmers.

Before 1929 the world, with an average production of wheat amounting to some 5,400 million bushels, usually carried over each year about 600 million bushels, but in 1928 many countries experienced an extraordinary yield to the acre, and so the year-end surplus greatly increased.

More than this, during the years of the depression, people ate less bread, all of which resulted in the usual 600 million bushels surplus growing by 1934 to the vast amount of 1,158 million.

Since 1934, however, several important wheat producing countries have suffered from very poor crops, and the world has actually produced less than it has consumed, and so the world's large burdensome surplus each year has been drawn upon until now it has completely disappeared. Not only is this the case, but as well there will be, I calculate, on August 1 next, only 400 million bushels in the world's cupboard for a carry-over, instead of the usual 600 million.

Just as the increasing surplus depressed price from 1928 to 1934, so it will have the opposite effect on the price when the surplus is turned back to less.

The following factors have appeared that have had the effect of pushing wheat prices up: Lack of rain persists in Australia; France is resuming wheat production; the European rice crop is 5% less than last year; Factors depressing prices have been as follows: Large wheat shipments from Australia, Argentina, Danubian area, India and other countries; seasonable weather for fall work in Europe; European demand for wheat declining; favorable conditions in the United States where wheat belt; increased estimates Japanese rice and Chinese wheat crops.

Speed and Alcohol At Odds

(Article supplied by Viking W.C.T.U.)
A traveller in Germany recently met the auto racer, Hans von Stuck, and had dinner with him. To the traveller's surprise the German ordered mineral water with his meal—no wine, no cocktail, not even beer—and this for a German! The traveller expressed his surprise and the other said in explanation, "I have never touched alcohol, nor have I smoked since I started racing. For that the factures must be unimpaired."

"But," said the other, "do you think that these things impair them?"

Von Stuck simply laughed and responded, "Of course they do."

We asked a student in Toronto who was on the boat crew for Varsity "What about the cigarettes?" For we knew that he smoked. He laughed, "I haven't touched one for three months."

The man who "strives" must be temperate in all things; this was Paul's conviction a long while ago; it holds good today, just as true as it was 1800 years ago. If the body is to do its best then it must be guarded, and all habits which impair its efficiency, even slightly, must be discontinued. Only that man gets the most out of life who puts the most into it of sacrifice and self-denial. There is no other way to the highest than this very ancient road.

The hermit came from the mountains to the city to see what changes were taking place in the world of men which he had not seen for many years.

As he entered the city, he was struck by a sign that read—"Try Ethyl—20 cents." But he started on, when at the next corner he saw another sign, "Two gals, 35 cents." Then he turned and started back for the mountains. The world was going along too fast for him.

SPORTS

Hard
to Fit?

"And remember it pays to be a sport." Daily you get that from the radio waves. Does Bill Adams mean in health, wealth or notoriety? If he suggests that the "sport" who plays with Lady Luck while the ponies gallop will get rich, he has the wrong bark. That game is merely a coin-shifter, with fun taking the place of "mon."

But Bill has the right slant. True sport does bring big rewards. It pays. Physical competition develops the body, paying a handsome dividend in health. Everybody can be his own cashier on that bank account. A smaller number specialize on entertaining others with their superior skill, and receive a flock of shekels that make the Professor's envelope look as thin as a "sheer" stocking. Our Viking boys have done very well, thank you.

Boys who pound the ball conjure up a pretty dream of holding the flour sack while the magician pours in gold coins to equal what each Yankee player received for the World Series,—$6430.00. It would break his back to carry that much silver. That was a fat reward. Even the defeated Giants carted to the bank $4655.00 for each and every one. The total players' pool amounted to $460,000.00, a new record.

Eddie Shore has a great time playing peek-a-boo with the Boston hockey club. The bean-eaters try to make him catch a package of Uncle Sam's silver certificates totalling $7,000. Eddie says something that sounds awful, but means no thanks. Then he ducks back to the bushes at Daugh and pretends to hide his head like an ostrich, while one ear is wholly uncovered to hear more silver clinking. The game ended nicely last year. Will it this?

Those wrestling bouts in Edmonton must be lively affairs or else the sport writers have brilliant imagination. They remind me of the great dog-fight at the Viking depot, when "Cassie" the bulldog (owned by Stowe and then Sparling) exchanged bites with another of the same breed. It was a clinch to the death. The C.N.R. "Interiors" will hold it while Nearing the engineer applied his flaming torch, and five or six men engaged in a tug-of-war to disengage those dogs. Now that was a scrap worth remembering.

EATON'S

Plan to Spend Holiday
In the Old Country

Montreal, Que., Oct. 27.—The idea of spending Christmas in the Old Land is finding favor with a good many people this year and as a result the railway and steamship companies are already making preparations to handle the increased traffic which naturally arises at this season of the year, the trans-Atlantic companies having already listed their pre-Christmas eastbound sailings from Montreal and Halifax, according to C. W. Johnston, general passenger traffic manager of the Canadian National Railways.

There will be seven pre-Christmas sailings from Montreal, commencing with the Andania, Ansonia and Duchess of Athol, all on November 20; the Duchess of Bedford November 25; the Montrose November 28, followed by the Alania and Letitia November 27. From Halifax there will be six sailings of steamers operating to the British Isles and Europe, these being the Andania, Ansonia and Duchess of Athol, all on November 20; the Duchess of Bedford November 25; the Montrose November 28, followed by the Alania and Letitia November 27. From Halifax there will be six sailings of steamers operating to the British Isles and Europe, these being the Andania, Ansonia and Duchess of Athol, all on November 20; the Duchess of Bedford November 25; the Montrose November 28, followed by the Alania and Letitia November 27.

In addition to these sailings, there will be others from Halifax bound for Scandinavia and other countries. The Norwegian America Line steamer Bergenfjord sailing from New York will make a special call at Halifax November 27 to pick up Christmas passengers from Canada for Bergen and Oslo, Norway, and connecting points in northern Europe. There will also be two sailings from Halifax to Denmark and Poland, these being by the Gdynia-American Line November 30 and December 14 for Copenhagen and Gdynia, and the Swedish American Line will have sailings from Halifax on November 21 and December 10 for Gothenburg.

In order to take care of the extra volume of passenger traffic by rail for the pre-Christmas sailings, additional train service will be in operation by the Canadian National Railways, which will include special services from Western Canada, connecting up with trains from the East for conveyance of passengers to the ships leaving from the Canadian ports. Special through sleeping cars will be in service on Canadian National lines, operating from the West through to the ship's side at Halifax.

CANADIANS AND THEIR INDUSTRIES...AND THEIR

FIRST IN CANADA'S INTERNATIONAL TRADE • THE TOURIST INDUSTRY •

A national asset worthy of the most intelligent cultivation is the tourist business, which brought $202,000,000 into Canada last year and is estimated to bring at least $250,000,000 this year. In our international trade its monetary value to Canada now ranks ahead of that of any of our exports, not excepting those important exportable commodities, wheat and newsprint.

But the tourist industry has potential values beyond its annual money income:

- it fosters exchange of ideas between neighbours, international understanding and co-operation, tolerance and goodwill;
- it accelerates betterment of railway, waterway and airway service, of motor roads and hotel accommodation;
- it awakens interest in Canadian products and opportunities for capital investment.

Through its offices abroad and more than 500 branches distributed throughout Canada, the Bank of Montreal is one of the leading factors in providing service for the tourist trade. Its offices abroad and in Canada are centres to which countless tourists turn for information and guidance. These offices not only extend financial hospitality which facilitates the exchange and transfer of money, but contribute in many other ways to make the visits of tourists comfortable, happy and profitable.

Thousands of customers of the Bank of Montreal do business with visitors from other countries—hotels, transportation lines, service stations, stores, et cetera—and they too find the kind of banking service they need in the Bank of Montreal.

From the General Manager's address at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bank, 1935:

"Canada has unexcelled railway and hotel facilities to attract tourists the whole year round, and year by year, as our automobile roads are improved and extended, more and more American cars will be seen in Canada."

"Railway and steamship lines, tourist agencies and newspapers have done a great deal towards cultivating this important trade in the general interest."

"Country hotels, boarding houses and tourist camps are coming to realize the necessity of improving accommodations and service."

"If tourists are given a warm welcome, are comfortably accommodated and treated courteously and fairly, their number will increase annually."

IF Husbands had to do The Housework—

DOES Friend Husband use the quill pen of the nineties, make his journeys with a horse and buggy, work with out-of-date tools or use his brain for an adding machine? He does not! He uses up-to-the-minute labor-saving, time-saving and money-saving devices.

Put Friend Husband doing housework and what would happen? The bugbears of household drudgery would vanish in quick time. There would be more Electric Ranges, Refrigerators, Vacuum Cleaners, Washing Machines, Ironers, Floor Polishers, and smaller appliances installed in a few months than in all time past.

Friend Husband wouldn't worry about the increase in his electricity bill either! He would know that the savings in labor and time would more than pay for the cost of electricity used.

You'll find it to your own advantage to take hints from the business methods of your husband, to help you in the management of your home!

Nine new members were initiated, four into Viking lodge and five into Vegreville lodge. The Brother Bills enjoyed a lunch and splendid entertainment. The Viking Elks appreciate the kindly visit from Vegreville members and will make a return visit in the future.

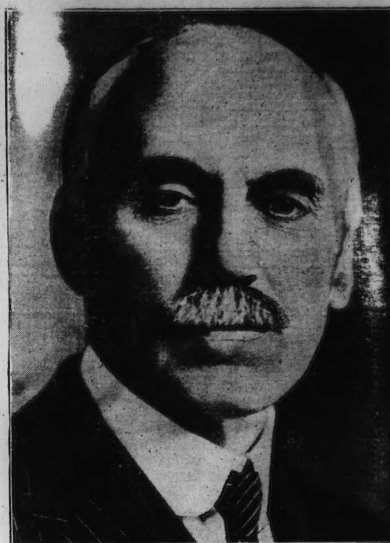

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Green left on Tuesday for their new home in Edmonton where they will reside in the future. Mr. Green has been promoted to the position of general superintendent of the main lines of the Northwestern Utilities in the city and from the Viking gas field, with headquarters in Edmonton. Mr. Green has been field superintendent of the local field since 1923 and his promotion is well merited. Excellent service has been the order ever since he took charge of the local field 13 years ago and the gas company has recognized his ability with this promotion. Besides having a wide knowledge of drilling activities he knows the gas business in all its various phases. The News joins with the community in wishing them happiness in their new home. Mr. Roland Brooks has been put in charge of the local field and Mr. and Mrs. Brooks will occupy the residence vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Green.

A memorial service in commemoration for fallen comrades will be held in the Elks' hall on Wednesday, 11th November, commencing at 10:30 a.m. sharp, under the sponsorship of the Viking Branch of the Canadian Legion, to which the general public is invited to attend. The service will follow the lines of those being held throughout the dominion at the same hour and date.

In the evening at 7:30 o'clock a banquet will be held in the same hall. Upwards of 150 tickets have been printed and will be disposed of. Anyone wishing to attend should see the officers of the Viking Legion who are selling the tickets at 50c per person. The Ladies' Auxiliary of the United church are serving the dinner. Dinner, programme and entertainment.

Some seventy-five people attended the Young People's Rally last Friday evening in the United church, cars coming from Tofield and Wainwright and intermediate points. In an interesting address, Rev. T. E. Armstrong of Wainwright stressed the idea of learning beyond one's school years. Rev. R. W. Hibbert of Vancouver spoke on "A Stairway of Surprise." A group of young people of Viking sang. An organization was set up for the coming year with Ken Tory of Wainwright as president. Russell Alexander and Stewart Purvis were also put on the executive. The senior girls of the Viking Sunday school were very active at supper time, seeing that all were bountifully served.

Selecting Municipal Representation

With the near approach of the annual municipal elections in urban centres and rural districts throughout the prairie provinces, the time has arrived when citizens might well devote some serious thought to the type of men (or women) who should represent them in the local councils during the coming year.

While at all times the question of the quality of representation on municipal councils is one of considerable importance, this year it is one of much magnitude, partly on account of the difficulties of local government occasioned by problems arising out of the depression and partly because of the restlessness of the changing times and changing viewpoints, particularly on social and economic problems.

From small but vociferous minorities one hears of suggestions and plans for changes which, if put into effect, might constitute a threat to the continued existence of democratic government in this country and there is always a danger, under a democratic form of government, of minority groups imposing their will on the majority, if the majority are apathetic about the conduct of their own affairs.

For this reason, if for no other, it is highly important that the citizens of this country take an active and intelligent interest in their own business—the business of government, whether it be in the local councils, the provincial legislature or the wider Federal arena.

It is unfortunately the case that sometimes municipal election issues are decided by a comparatively small percentage of the electorate because so many refrain from going to the polls to express their desires through the ballot. If this results in the election of representatives unacceptable to the majority and the imposition of policies inimical to their interests, those who refrain from casting their ballots on election day have no "come-back" and deserve none.

To many it may seem that local affairs are of little importance. They appear trivial when matched with provincial issues or Federal policies and this misapprehension sometimes leads to an attitude of nonchalance on the part of a section of the electorate.

On the contrary, however, it should be remembered that despite the fact that local municipal units are the creation and, therefore, the creatures of a superior government, nevertheless local self-government is the bulwark of the people and of all government, and with the extension of activities and authority imposed upon municipal councils in recent years is becoming increasingly so.

Not only that, but in many matters closely affecting the lives and welfare of the citizens of the country, the major governments have adopted the custom of seeking the advice and assistance of local municipal representatives in an increasingly large measure. They regard them, properly, as the mouthpiece of the district they serve and more often than not defer to their wishes.

For this reason, as well as the necessity of having men capable of administering local affairs wisely, it is highly important that the municipal electors use care and sound judgment in selecting the men who are to represent them in the councils, that all the electors participate in the function of casting the ballot and that once having made their selection the electors support their representatives as long as they prove worthy of the high trust imposed in them.

If the great majority of the electors take these duties seriously, less will be heard of trivial matters being injected into municipal election campaigns and municipal council debates and there is less likelihood that elected representatives will listen to insistent demands of organized minorities or individuals who seek concessions or make proposals adverse to the interests of the great rank and file of the electorate.

One sometimes hears it stated that it is difficult or impossible to induce the best-fitted to accept nomination for public office. If that is so, it must largely be the fault of the percentage of the electorate who decline to take an active interest in their own affairs, both in the matter of selecting candidates and in giving them hearty support in devising and carrying out measures and policies for the benefit of the community as a whole.

Such comments are not, of course, applicable to all municipalities, and perhaps not even to a majority of them. In many cities, towns, villages and rural municipalities in the three prairie provinces, the electorate demonstrates a highly intelligent and active interest in its own affairs, and as a result their business is conducted wisely and well by capable men and men of integrity who justly command a respect and confidence which is not confined to the communities they serve.

Dog Solves Crimes

Does Valuable Work In Connection With Duties Of Mounted Police

"Dale," a big black and tan with a keen nose and a marked devotion to duty, is now a valued member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police establishment at Calgary.

Dale is a dog who has done such remarkable work in solving a number of crimes in the Calgary district that he has won honorable mention in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police annual report, just off the press. It takes a full page in the report to describe the dog's exploits. Here are a few of the cases in which Dale distinguished himself:

Ellen Simpson, two and a half years old, wandered away from her home. A search party failed to find her. Dale was called in and did.

Under difficult conditions Dale helped police in connection with the murder of Sergeant T. S. Wallace and Constable G. C. Harrison by Joe Tomlinson, Peter Volken and John Kalmskoff, who were killed themselves in gun battles with the police.

Dale traced a demented man who caused an explosion in a farmer's house from a gasoline saturated suit of underwear found at the cellar door. The same farmer had lost two rolls of wire netting. Dale was taken to the place from which the netting was removed. He picked up the scent, found the wire and led to the arrest and conviction of the thief.

But Dale is ornamental as well as useful. He took first prize in his class at the Calgary dog show.

Supplies Reach Coppermine

Hudson's Bay Boat Gets Through The Ice After Difficulties

Relieving anxiety which has lasted for months, supplies have finally reached Coppermine, principal base in the Central Arctic, according to reports reaching Edmonton. Blocked for weeks by huge ice floes in the Arctic the schooner Audrey B., under charter to the Hudson's Bay Company, carrying supplies to the trading posts, has finally made its way through the ice of Coronation Gulf, reached Coppermine, and now is frozen in at that point.

Owners of the schooner, Jack Lickert, Bill Storr, Art Watson and "Slim" Purnell have sent word of their safe passage and a radio telegraph message. To this effect has reached Edmonton.

The other Hudson's Bay supply ship made Coppermine safely on October 6. Aboard her was Ray Ross, company post manager of Reid Island, and his bride, the former Miss Lillian Smith of Edmonton.

No Campaign Speeches

Alaskan Woman Is Elected By Visiting Voters By Aeroplane

Alaskan first woman legislator, Flying Nell Scott, was elected without making a single campaign speech. The Seldovia woman's aerial campaign ignored both political practice and traditions of feminine talkativeness. She let her masculine opponents have the first and last word, while she took the votes. She covered the district in an aeroplane, having heart to heart talks with individual voters and key persons in organizations. Her platform was based on popular Alaskan issues: Abolition of federal taxation of social security legislation; financial aid to prospectors; substantial bounties on predatory animals, and more and better aeroplane landing fields.

U.S. Naval Strength

America's Naval Fighting Power Has Been Reduced

An official report disclosed that America's naval fighting power had been reduced since July 1 while other major nations were increasing theirs. The figures, made public by the navy department, showed the United States, chiefly by scrapping old warships in accordance with provisions of the soon-to-expire London treaty, had cut its naval strength from 36 ships of 1,080,715 tons to 306 ships aggregating 1,062,875 tons.

Letter Of Thanks

Mayor Of French City Votes Gratitude For Gift From Canadians

The pilgrimage of Canadian ex-servicemen and their dependents to Vimy Ridge during the summer was recalled by receipt of a letter of thanks from Mayor Milot, of Valenciennes to Lieut-Col. J. S. Rankin, D.S.O., former commanding officer of the 45th (South Saskatchewan) battalion.

The letter, voiced the gratitude of the city for the vellum-bound copy of the operation order covering the attack on Valenciennes on November 1, 1918, in which affair the late Sergeant Hugh Cairns of the battalion, won the Victoria Cross.

The day prior to the unveiling of the Canadian Memorial on Vimy Ridge the city of Valenciennes dedicated a street to the memory of Hugh Cairns, and in the course of the ceremony Major G. H. Gilbert, M.C., Yorkton, Sask., on behalf of the 46th Battalion, presented to Mayor Milot the copy of the operation order.

In his letter the mayor said this document was now translated into French, and had been placed in the municipal library "in order that the citizens of Valenciennes might know to whom they are indebted for their deliverance."

Substitute For Gasoline

Amateur Chemist Says Invention Will Benefit The World

An obscure Pittsburgh inventor and inventor-deceit, who likes to dabble in chemistry on the side, claims to have hit upon a secret formula from what he asserts he has developed a substitute for gasoline.

He believes his discovery, which has not yet been put on the market, or been protected by patents, will "revolutionize the gasoline industry."

The amateur chemist is Frederic J. Hoyer, and as one example of the manner in which his "gas substitute" will benefit the world, says general use of his "gas" would greatly reduce, if not erase entirely, deaths from monoxide fume poisoning.

In a recent demonstration of his discovery, Hoyer, accompanied by his attorney, A. F. Burkardt, and a reporter drove a car with standard equipment fourteen and one-half miles on a gallon of ordinary gasoline, and one-tenth of a mile more on a gallon of what he said was his "gasoline substitute."

At the completion of the last demonstration, Burkardt declared: "Well, as far as we are concerned, this new fuel is perfected."

Drouth Danger

Little mentioned among the drought hazards to cattle is the possibility of the animals eating the hearty Sudan grass, cane or any kind of grain sorghum which, although stunted in growth by the dry weather, will stay green long after the normal feed grasses have withered. The Department of Agriculture reports that in eating these plants live stock may consume a deadly dose of hydrocyanic or prussic acid, present in the plants.

A Precious Relic

Interesting History Of Coronation Chair At Westminster Abbey

While the work of preparing Westminster Abbey for the coronation next May is proceeding, one important relic at the Abbey will undergo no renovation, the Coronation Chair, according to a writer in the Manchester Guardian.

Except for dusting it requires nothing done to it, and it would not stand much. The famous stone of Scone—and it had a history in Ireland before it was taken to Scone—has a wide crack which all but rent its solid mass asunder, and iron rings encompass the chair. It is not only age which has caused the wear and tear. Though every monarch since Edward I. has been crowned on it, the use it has undergone on those occasions has been negligible.

For a long period of its history it was very poorly looked after. Nearly everybody, it seems, was allowed to sit in it by permission of the attendant, or else did so on the sly. An inscription on it, "Peter Abbot slept in this chair, July 5th, 1800," is illuminating. Peter Abbot went into the Abbey at night for a bet that he would carve his name on Purcell's monument. He did not succeed in doing that, but he had no difficulty on the Coronation Chair. The surface of the chair is a mass of scratches made by visitors who wanted to leave their mark on it, and there must have been a time when every Westminster schoolboy deemed it a disgrace if he left school without carving his name on the Abbey's most precious relic.

Amazing Fast Flight

Birds Fly From Florida To Alaska In A Month

Among the most amazing instances of the speed with which some species of birds accomplish their migratory flights cited by Frederick C. Lincoln of the bureau of biological survey in his pamphlet, "The Migration of North American Birds," is that of the gray-checked thrush.

"This bird," Lincoln says, "winters in Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Venezuela and British Guiana and does not start its northward journey until many other species are well on their way. It does not appear in the United States until the last of April—April 25, near the mouth of the Mississippi, and April 30 in northern Florida.

A month later, or by the last week in May, the bird is seen in northwestern Alaska, the 4,000-mile trip from Louisiana having been made at an average speed of about 130 miles a day."

Handling Of Horses Is No Longer Compulsory Subject In Mounted Police Training

Horses are still an important element in the equipment of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police although it is now possible for a man to be a moutie without being a good horseman.

"Equitation," as the science of riding and handling horses is called, is no longer a compulsory subject in the training of Mounted Police recruits.

The work carried on by Canada's ancient red-coated force is constantly becoming more specialized and motor cars, motorcycles, dog sleds, aeroplanes, cruisers and patrol boats combine to push the horse into a somewhat limited role in the transport setup.

During the past year a "mounted section" of the force was formed and in this section the horse still occupies his customary place.

The annual report of Sir James MacBrien, commissioner, just issued, states formation of the mounted section was due to the difficulty of completing the training of some recruits in the prescribed period of six months if intensive training in equitation was necessary and also due to "changing conditions of service in the force and the advance of modern and rapid means of travel."

The report also says: "Experience has shown that mounted police when used in connection with dismounted police are of great assistance in the control and dispersal of mobs, unlawful assemblies, etc., and there is no intention of dispensing altogether with the mounted men."

The mounted section consisted of several troops of men stationed at strategic points throughout the Dominion, such as Ottawa, Winnipeg, Regina, Edmonton and Vancouver. Each troop consists of about 20 men, all of whom undergo intensive training in equitation.

The latest report covers the fiscal year ended March 31, 1936, and during that period horses owned by the force decreased 36, and at the end of the period numbered 241.

The transport equipment of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police on March 31 last consisted of the following: 442 passenger cars, 29 motorcycles, 19 motor trucks, 10 cruisers, 17 patrol boats, 226 saddle horses, 15 team horses, 388 sleigh dogs.

Farm Life Advantages

Offers Best Opportunities Of Any Industry In Canada

Farming offers the best opportunities of any industry in Canada to the average man. Hon. J. G. Gardiner, minister of agriculture, told a group of farm boys at Ottawa.

"There is no place in Canada where the average man can make a more comfortable living, have greater independence, greater freedom of thought or more abundant opportunities for home life than on the farm," said Mr. Gardiner.

In the past many people had a wrong conception of farming, he thought. Many farmers had tried to give their children an education in order that they could leave the farm and have an easier life. This was a natural consequence of the hardships the pioneer farmers of Canada had met. The proper attitude was to strive for education and culture but to remain on the farm.

Young farmers should get the best education they could. Culture had a place on the farm as well as in the office and a man was no worse as a farmer if he had a university degree.

Interesting Timepieces

Gentleman Invented A Watch That Played Two Tunes

Mr. John Arnold was a watchmaker. George the Second paid him $2,500 for a watch which he inserted inside a ring. He refused $5,000 from the Emperor of Russia for a similar watch. So there seems little doubt that he was a good watchmaker. But his fame rests mainly on the fact that, for a wager, he once climbed to the top of the spire of Salisbury Cathedral—and it's 404 feet up—and sitting calmly on the top, took a watch to pieces, cleaned it, put it together again, and climbed down. His reward was a few pounds.

Other watchmakers may not have been so spectacular, says a writer in Answers, but they have made some interesting timepieces. Fashions usually go in cycles, and the modern craze which women have for miniature wrist-watches is only a survival of the old days, when craftsmen really were craftsmen and mass production had never been heard of.

One gentleman, a Mr. James Cox, once invented a watch with a musical movement which played two tunes. His pride in his work counted more with him than bread-and-butter, for he ruined himself by making musical watches and other toys which no one could afford to buy.

There are still watches going today which were made hundreds of years ago. One is still going, and keeping time, although it was first wound up in the year 1664.

The "baby" wrist-watch of today has been causing watchmakers some trouble. The accuracy of a watch is governed by the size of the balance wheel, and while, in the rectangular type of wrist watch, the wheel can be of a fair size, there isn't much room in the round type.

And so the works are now being arranged differently. Instead of being grouped together, watch movements are made in two separate layers. The balance wheel has a layer all to itself, and the rest of the works are in a second layer.

This arrangement allows a wheel of much larger size than before to be used, so that the tiniest wrist-watch can now be made very much more accurate.

Rare Albino Bullfrog

Only Known Frog To Sport Blend Of Three Colors

Lilith, rare albino bullfrog of the St. Louis zoo, is gradually turning yellow and the experts are puzzled. When she arrived a year ago Lilith was pure white, and the zoo displayed her proudly.

But a few months ago she began to develop dark, spotty freckles, and the yellow coloring is now streaking down and around the freckles.

This gives Lilith an appearance of mottled white, brown and yellow. The zoo is ashamed of her, and so is she.

Real albino frogs occur about one in a million. Several eastern zoos have yellow ones and dark frogs can be found on almost any pond. Lilith, although no longer milky white, can still claim the distinction of being the only known frog sporting a blend of three colors.

Zoo officials can't explain Lilith's yellow streaks. She seems healthy, they say.

If the cow is threatened by a hostile dog, the kangaroo will leap to her rescue and drive off the aggressor.

Moving Furniture

Moving Van Loaders Take Lessons To Learn The Art

You wonder how all the furniture in a large house can be packed in a relatively small number of cubic feet in a moving van?

One of the reasons is the Indianapolis College for Moving Van Loaders, operated by a large furniture-moving company. Students in the course undergo two strenuous weeks of loading and unloading, with classroom work in which driving regulations and transport laws of every state in the Union, as well as Canada, are studied thoroughly.

The graduates then are placed on trucks under experienced supervisors and in a few weeks, if they learn the business, are promoted to A-1 rating.

The "laboratory" course of the college is stiff. A double house is completely furnished with all types of furniture, even including electric and icebox types of refrigerators. The first lesson is to move all the furniture out of the house and load it in a truck in the rear, being sure that everything is packed neatly and not subject to breakage. The second lesson is to move all the furniture out of the truck and back into the house. This loading and unloading continues for many days until the students get the knack of it.

Attar Of Roses

Perfume Manufacturer From Bulgaria Gives Name Vase Lights

Carrying in his vest pocket the scent of an acre of roses, Peter Shipkoff, Bulgarian manufacturer of attar of roses, arrived in Montreal.

"It takes between 3,500 and 4,000 pounds of rose leaves to make one pound of attar," he told a reporter in the Mount Royal Hotel, and then pulled a little bottle holding an ounce of the oily liquid out of his pocket.

Instantly a rose garden seemed to come to full bloom in the lobby of the hotel. The reporter put it within an inch of his nose and nearly choked. Concentrated odor was unpleasant.

"Bulgaria is the largest producer of attar of roses," Mr. Shipkoff continued. "We have 70,000 hectares of rose gardens in central Bulgaria. The roses are all the 30-leaved, crimson Damask rose, which we find to be the most powerfully scented."

"This year's production," he said, "is small. It is not more than 2,000 kilograms for all Bulgaria. Yet prices still are low. They are between 9p and 10p an ounce. In pre-depression days the price was 25p an ounce."

Longer Rest Periods For Soldiers Is Suggestion Made

More sleep for soldiers would tempt recruits, according to one entrant in a contest organized by the British Northern in an attempt to increase the comfort and attractiveness of army life. Soldiers should be allowed to stay in bed until seven o'clock on week days and nine on Sundays, the entrant adds. The report of the contest, just issued in London, said other ideas included an increase in the comfort of uniforms and the admission of girl friends into barracks supper rooms. Securing recruits is becoming difficult in Britain.

Population Of Prairie Provinces Is Shown To Be Drifting Northward

Easy-Going Teaching

Severe Criticism Is Levelled At Present Educational System

One of the most severe criticisms which continue to be levelled at the educational system of this province, says the Toronto Globe, is the inadequate or ineffective instruction which is given in the correct and effective use of the English language.

Following remarks of Mr. J. G. Harvie, chairman of the Orillia Board of Education, to teachers on the importance of training children in grammatical form, correct pronunciation and clear enunciation, the Packet and Times says: "Unfortunately there is a disposition toward easy-going carelessness in these matters which is earning Canadians an undesirable reputation."

This sentiment is echoed by the Ottawa Journal, which remarks: "Apparently we have not been overly successful in teaching this subject, and the schools continue to turn out young people whose sentences are muddled, who are verbose where they should be concise, take too long to pass a given point, have no conception of proper punctuation."

Of all the subjects at present on the curricula of both public and high schools there is none more important than those which may be included under the general term English. No other accomplishment gained during school years is so useful and so necessary to almost everyone in after life as the ability to write and speak well.

Without a sufficiently recognized standard, carelessness is liable to result. There is also the fact that modern radio, moving pictures, and a great deal of magazine literature are very powerful factors for the teaching of mis-spelling, mispronunciation, slang phrases and other undesirable tendencies which the teacher has to combat. It is not only a question of teaching correct English, but it is also a case of having the pupil "unlearn" much that he picks up from sources outside of the classroom.

A child adopts the tongue of his parents and forms habits of speech at a very early age. It is, therefore, that sound groundwork be established in the first school years so that later teaching, which is equally important, may be built on a substantial base.

Canada's Wheat Trade

Wheat Exports Greatly Increased During First Half Of Current Fiscal Year

Increased value of Canada's wheat trade during the first half of the current fiscal year is indicated in figures released by Hon. J. L. Hiley, minister of national revenue.

From April to September, both months inclusive, Canada's wheat exports were valued at $109,766,902, compared with $59,005,180 for the same period of 1935. This was an increase of 86 per cent.

This year 127,453,004 bushels were exported, yielding an average of 86 cents a bushel; a year ago the 71,640,907 bushels which went abroad averaged 82½ cents.

The trade figures for the current half year disclose that out of 12 groups of export commodities, only one recorded a decline. Increases in meats, cheese, plastics and boards, newspaper and partially manufactured copper were substantial.

Ring For A Century

Electric Bell At Oxford University Museum, Is A Phenomenon

An electric bell which has been ringing for almost a century, was one of the exhibits at the Oxford University museum staff's annual exhibition, says the London Telegraph. The bell, which was made in 1840—it is not known by whom—was moved to Oxford after it had been ringing for 20 years. It has not been moved since. Incased in glass, it consists of two cylinders made of copper and 5,000 paper disks coated with sulphur.

The battery charges itself, and is the nearest thing to perpetual motion which has ever been achieved. Nobody can tell how long it will continue to ring or how soon it will need recharging.—Winnipeg Tribune.

Population of the prairie provinces is moving northward.

Figures for the 1936 five-year census of the three provinces published by the trade and commerce department show the increase in the six most northerly electoral districts amounts to almost 17 per cent. This compares with an increase of 2½ per cent. for all districts.

The total population of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta is 2,414,050 against 2,353,529 in the 1931 census. In the six northerly electoral districts the population has increased from 237,065 to 282,826.

The northward movement is attributed by the department mainly to three factors:

Taking up of farmlands in the newer districts by farmers who have given up their old farms in the drought stricken areas of the more southern sections of the provinces; development of mining fields in the north, business developed by the Hudson Bay railroad and the new northern ocean terminal at Port Churchill.

In northern Manitoba the district of Churchill has a population of 33,755, an increase of 1,612 over that reported in 1931. In the southern section of this district there are 2,494 occupied farms while in the northern parts are the town of the Pas and the adjoining Flin Flon mining district. The port of Churchill also adds to the population.

In Saskatchewan the districts of Melfort, Prince Albert and North Battleford have a joint population of 151,350, an increase of 29,281. Occupied farms in these northern sections of Saskatchewan number 28,603.

In Alberta the electoral districts of Athabasca and Peace River cover the whole of the northern section of the province. The population of Athabasca has increased from 39,102 to 47,956 in the five years and that of Peace River from 43,761 to 48,755.

Race Of Giants

Survey Shows That Children Of Today Are Two Inches Taller Than Grandparents

Signs that certain populations may be growing slowly into a race of giants were noted in a world-wide study of heights and weights of young people.

Every 12½ years for the last 30 years, almost four-tenths of an inch has been added to the height of the average college student, the Journal of the American Medical Association reported in an editorial survey. For the population as a whole, the Journal said, the rate of growth "is somewhat smaller."

In the United States, it continued, "children of today entering colleges and universities seem to average two inches taller and weigh some seven pounds more than did their parents and grandparents."

"A similar observation has recently been made abroad."

To support its conclusions the editorial recited these figures:

In Germany boys entering school between six and six½ years of age in 1924 were 108.7 centimeters tall. A similar crop of children in 1932 was 114.3 centimeters tall.

In Norway, the average height of military recruits increased 3.01 centimeters between 1878-1887 and 1923-1925.

In Holland, recruits were 6.67 centimeters taller in 1921-1925 than in 1863-1867.

In Sweden the rise was 4.5 centimeters between 1846-1850 and 1921-1922.

In this country, students at Harvard University, Vassar, Wellesley, Smith and Mt. Holyoke colleges added 1½ inches to their average height in a generation.

As the students grew taller, they grew heavier in proportion.

Larger Sugar Beet Crop

Alberta's sugar beet industry will hit a new mark this year, for the harvest that started recently will see more than 200,000 tons garnered, the first time such a high level of production has been attained. More than 60,000 tons of sugar will be produced at the Raymond and Picture Butte factories.

A hothouse citrus industry, developed from plants brought from Florida, is getting started near Moscow. Lemons are unknown in present-day Moscow markets.

It has long seemed as if that hymn for those in peril on the sea should be altered to those in peril on the highways.

Shower for Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Fuder Is Given At Coal Springs School

A host of friends gathered at the Coal Springs school on the evening of October 22nd for the occasion of a shower in honor of Mr. and Mrs. F. Fuder. The school was decorated with white and pink streamers. Relatives and friends were gathered and the minute the bride and groom entered the school the crowd began the singing of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows."

After the bride and groom were seated in their throne at the front of the school, the chairman, Robert Routledge, then asked Miss Aletha Knudson to give a speech of welcome. Several songs were then sung by the audience, and a very nice duet was sang by Mr. and Mrs. Pete Spring. A guitar duet was given by Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Knudson. Mrs. Sadie Riese sang a solo accompanied by Mrs. M. W. Pendleton, organist.

Then several of the members of the audience were called upon for a speech. Some of them were ones who went to school with the bride and groom.

Then the best of all was the "Treasure Hunt" by Owen Spring and Charles Lison. Their finding, which they presented to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Fuder consisted of many beautiful and useful gifts. These the bride and groom opened and passed around for all to see. Then a short speech was made by the bride, thanking the people for the gifts, stating how much she appreciated their kindness.

Lunch was served by friends and relatives, following which the guests of honor were wished a long life and much happiness. The evening was then brought to a close by all joining hands and singing "Auld Lang Syne."
